Corum PluSport Challenge (2 February 2014)

→ Enter the competition: our unique integrative parallel slalom pre-event to win one of two beautiful Corum watches (value over CHF 15'000)

Integration by sport – a race, open to athletes with or without a disability, athlete versus athlete. The handicap is calculated by a factor, eliminating a direct comparison. Because it's not about impairment; it's about competition sport.

PluSport walks the talk in terms of integration by sport, and therefore will offer a parallel slalom during the IPC World Cup in St. Moritz, in which disabled as well as non-disabled athletes will be able to compete against each other. This type of race is highly attractive for the racers and the spectators, albeit widely unknown in disabled sports. As the IPC does not recognise this form of competition, the race will be held as a side event, with its own set of non-IPC rules.

Entry Fee: only 10 €

Payment: - cash info desk at hotel Laudinella before TCM or at Race office
