1 INTRODUCTION

The IPC Guide to Para and IPC Terminology is a detailed reference document on the terminologies associated with the International Paralympic Committee and the Paralympic Movement. It covers a wide range of topics such as correct usage of terms, event naming, acronyms and more.

2 USAGE OF PARA AND PARALYMPIC

Paralympic, Paralympics and Paralympian can only be used with reference to the Paralympic Games. For all sport outside of that, the word Para can be used (capitalised and followed by a space), provided that the International Federation (IF) is a member of the International Paralympic Committee (IPC) or recognised by the IPC.

Preferred Term: Para athlete
A general term for pro and amateur athletes with an impairment who play sport but have not competed at a Paralympic Games. An athlete is only a Paralympian once he/she has taken part in a Paralympic Games Incorrect terms: Paralympian, Paralympic athlete
Correct Term: Paralympian / Paralympic athlete
An athlete who has taken part in a Paralympic Games. A Paralympian is never a former/ex-Paralympian. If a Para athlete has taken part once, he/she is a Paralympian 'for life'. If the person is no longer an athlete, then he/she is a former athlete. Incorrect terms: Para Olympian / Former Paralympian
Correct Term: Paralympic sport
A general reference to any sport on the Paralympic Games programme. This is only used when referring to the sport's involvement in the Paralympic Games. The International Federation of the sport must be recognised by the IPC. Incorrect terms: Para Olympic sport
Correct Term: Para sport or sport for athletes with a disability, athlete/person with disability, athlete/person with vision impairment, athlete/person with physical and intellectual impairment.

Para sport will be defined to mean any sport in which people with a disability participate and which has classification rules compliant with the IPC Athlete Classification Code.

All sport for athletes with a disability whether they feature on the Paralympic programme or not. And the respective International Federation must, however, be recognised by the IPC.

The term 'Para' can only be used for sports that are recognised by the IPC.

The IPC chooses the first-person language, ie, addressing the athlete first and then his/her disability. Therefore, the right term encouraged by the IPC is 'athlete/person with disability' and 'persons/people with disabilities'.

Incorrect terms: disabled sport, disability sport, disabled athlete, disabled person, blind athlete, blind person

4 EVENT TERMINOLOGY

4.1 PARALYMPIC GAMES

When addressing the Paralympic Games, use various formal or informal terms depending on the inclusion of the city and/or year. The preferred term should be used on first usage, after which other formal or informal terms may be used where appropriate.

Format	Term
Paralympic Summer Games [City] [Year] Paralympic Games	First usage: Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games Subsequent usage: 2020 Paralympic Games, Tokyo 2020 Paralympics, Tokyo 2020
Paralympic Winter Games [City] [Year] Paralympic Winter Games	First usage: Beijing 2022 Paralympic Winter Games Subsequent usage: Beijing 2022 Winter Paralympics, Paralympic Winter Games, 2022 Paralympics, Beijing 2022

Note:

- The Paralympic Games should not be referred to by the number of its edition (eg, XI Paralympic Winter Games) or as Games of the Paralympiad.
- The term Paralympic Games refers only to summer editions of the Paralympic Games. Any reference to winter editions should use the term Paralympic Winter Games.
- The timeline for selecting future hosts is divided into two dialogue stages:
 - Continuous Dialogue: Non-committal discussions between the IOC and Interested Parties with regard to hosting future Olympic and Paralympic Games. The IPC contributes to these discussions on an on-going and as needed basis.
 - Targeted Dialogue: Targeted discussions with one or more Preferred Host(s), as instructed by the IOC Executive Board. This follows a recommendation by the Future Host Commission as a result of Continuous Dialogue. The IOC Executive Board draws up the final list of Preferred Host(s) for an edition of the Games and is submitted to the IOC Session. The Host is elected by the IOC Session.
